I am talking about arabic movies that are available via streaming services, search for movies, download or downloading arabic movies from 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an image processing apparatus for performing gradation conversion by using an edge component. More particularly, the present invention relates to an image processing apparatus for correcting gradation conversion into a high gradation in a texture region. 2. Related Background Art Recently, from the viewpoint of a demand for a high resolution, printers have been improved in printing performance and the number of printers that can print 300 dpi are increasing. As a result, recording media such as lithographic printing plates have also become fine in graininess, and the printer of the related art cannot cope with this fine graininess, and therefore, it is necessary to effectively perform image processing that is performed to prevent the image quality from being lowered even if image recording is performed on the fine graininess of the recording media. In general, there are two processes for ensuring the image quality. One process is to process the image in advance by using a high resolution so that the image quality is not lowered when the resolution is low. The other process is to perform density processing while making the gradation conversion conditions as appropriate, by using an edge component of the image. From the viewpoint of the above, in a conventional image processing apparatus, the density processing is performed while correcting the gradation conversion conditions in accordance with the density characteristic of a texture. However, since the image processing in the density processing is performed in accordance with only the density characteristic of the texture, there is a problem that the gradation conversion condition for gradation conversion into
