A: The site you just visited is a scam site, the downloading process (copy-paste) simply won't work with the unauthorized software installed on the PC. I tried to open it with notepad after it was downloaded, and got a message that it was corrupted. You shouldn't have opened notepad, because it may interfere with the installation process. Try downloading and running the installer again (with Admin privileges), and that will overwrite the previous version. This seems to be caused by a buggy anti-virus software. I suggest you remove that anti-virus software temporarily. BTW, I got the PC in less than one day (from the link you provided), and I didn't have to spend any money. I won't recommend you to use it, because the "crack" will increase the chances that the scammer will refund you.
