
ColorPerfect 2.25 !FULL!

Once I get everything set up, I can easily post the pictures on a web server and there they generally look quite acceptable, as long as the colors are not skewed or anything like that. In my mind, that is the ideal situation. Unfortunately, in reality it seems to happen relatively seldom. So, one ends up doing something pretty much like what ColorPerfect does. I use ColorPerfect as the base for my colour negs because of its hue and saturation tools. I recently bought the new version as it's been some time since I last updated the original version. I tried it out and there are several bugs. For instance, if I try to open the Hue value in the Tool Palette the application crashes. So, I have to do the correction without the Hue value.
